<sup>1</sup> The Court finds that the parties' agreement for $60,000 for all attorney's fees and costs Plaintiff incurred in anticipation of or in connection with this litigation is reasonable given Plaintiff's substantial efforts in this action. Those efforts include, but are not limited to: (1) months-long efforts to work with the Forest Service to resolve the environmental issues in connection with the Project without litigation; (2) submitting a 60-day Notice of Intent to Sue letter to the Forest Service under the Endangered Species Act; (3) filing and arguing a successful motion for a preliminary injunction; (4) over six months of work to informally resolve this action with the Forest Service after the Complaint was filed; (5) working out interim conditions that allowed the Project to proceed with environmental protections in place; and (6) filing a motion for summary judgment on an expedited basis.
